

The Content, Literacy, Inquiry, and Citizenship (CLIC) Project

Teaching California is a project of the California Historical Society, in partnership with the California History-Social Science Project. Expert historians and educators have curated a vast collection of primary sources to develop K-12 inquiry sets aligned to the California History-Social Science Framework. Teaching California takes these resources and has developed teacher and student notes, activities and other tools that will help guide educators through a research-based approach to improving student reading, writing and critical thinking.

Teaching California: Bringing Archives into the Classroom

May 12th
3:30-5:00 pm
Virtual Curriculum
Training

Register at NO COST:
<https://bit.ly/3thYpHq>

Session Description

Drs. Beth Slutsky and Tuyen Tran will introduce participants to the new and exciting resources from Teaching California. Participants will be provided with an introduction to the available resources, take a deeper dive into the content of select inquiry sets, and have time to collaboratively explore the resources most relevant to their teaching context.

In partnership with
The History Project
AT UC DAVIS

SCOE
Sacramento County Office of Education